

Vail Health IRB Webpage

New resource available on Vail Health's Website

We are excited to announce we have our own webpage on the Vail Health Website: Vail Health Research.

Our webpage provides an overview of our Research program here in the valley. This page also allows us to bring beneficial resources to both participants and investigators.

To make navigation easier we added separate sections for investigators, participants, and announcements.

Investigators will find our templates, the investigator manual, link to IRBManager, meeting dates, Vail Health HRPP Policy and Procedures, and training videos here. Participants will have easier access to our Research Participation Brochure and research websites resources, along with our contact information for research complaints or concerns.

Additionally, we have a section dedicated to our recent AAHRPP Accreditation. This section dives a bit deeper into what this means for our research program.

Be sure to search "research" to find our page.

New Training Videos

We have created a few training videos as a new resource available to our researchers. We selected a few topics that are most common concerns during the submission process and getting protocols started. The videos cover ICF training, COI Disclosure Process, and How to Submit in IRBManager. The videos are under 5 minutes and provide a step-by-step view of the processes.

For convenience, these videos are available on Vail Health IRB's webpage on Vail Health's website.

Google Surveys Available

After you receive your approval notice from the IRB in IRBManager, an additional email will be sent containing a link to our anonymous satisfaction survey. Or complete the survey via this link. Please complete it so we can make improvements!

New Conflict of Interest Inbox

Our conflict of interest (COI) disclosure department now has their own email. Please email ResearchConflictOfInterest@vailhealth.org with any questions or concerns regarding any conflict of interest topic.
